THE FASHION SHOW

Created by our talented graduating fashion designers, each collection tells a unique story, blending creativity, craftsmanship, and innovation. Our designers have spent years developing their skills, experimenting with textiles, silhouettes, and techniques to bring you their final masterpieces.

“Warped and Wonderfully Weird”

A collection using the subtraction pattern cutting method which further promotes the concept of inclusivity and freedom. This pattern cutting technique makes the most of the negative spaces that can be opened up in fabric and falls somewhere between traditional pattern making and drape resulting in experimental garments that break the boundaries of the usual garment shapes.

Fabrics sponsored by Brook Taverner.

SCENE 8

BA (HONS) FASHION

“I prefer living in colour”

A gender-neutral range of contemporary twin sets taking influence from the Bradford born and alumni of Bradford School painter, draftsman, printmaker, stage designer, and photographer David Hockney. Following on from the Sky Arts interview/documentary which was filmed within the art school, students were asked to draw influence from the art and personality /style of the artist. Fabrics sponsored by Brook Taverner.

“Winx Club: Dream Closet”

Step into a world where magic meets haute couture, where the whimsy of fairytales intertwines with the sophistication of high fashion. Inspired by the vibrant universe of the Winx Club cartoon and infused with the timeless elegance of Christian Dior, this fashion collection invites you to embark on a journey through enchantment and style.

IQRA MAHMOOD-BA (HONS) FASHION

“Barbie x Bollywood”

The collaboration between Barbie and Bollywood and the thoughts behind this was to create a revolutionary fusion between the iconic western dolls fashion with many vibrant and diverse styles of south Asian culture. My collection began by an inspiration of two icons. Linking it to Bollywood made it much more appealing as that's a holds a unique place in global culture.
